STATE OF RHODE ISLAND

IN GENERAL ASSEMBLY

JANUARY SESSION, A.D. 2019

A N  A C T

RELATING TO TAXATION - SUGARY DRINKS

Introduced By: Representative Jean Phillipe Barros

Date Introduced: February 25, 2019

Referred To: House Finance

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. Legislative Findings.

(1) Obesity is common as approximately one-third of adults (36.5 %) and approximately 1.27 million (17 %) of children and adolescents ages two (2) to nineteen (19) years old living in the United States are obese; and

(2) Obesity has more than doubled in children and quadrupled in adolescents in the past thirty (30) years, and obese children are at least twice as likely as nonobese children to become obese adults; and

(3) Twenty-five (25) states currently have an adult obesity rate above thirty percent (30%), forty-three (43) states have rates of at least twenty-five (25%) percent, and every state has a rate above twenty percent (20%); and

(4) In accordance with the most recent data, twenty-six percent (26%) of the adults and over thirteen percent (13%) of children between the ages of ten (10) to seventeen (17) living in the state of Rhode Island are obese; and

(5) Obesity increases the risk of serious health conditions such as type 2 diabetes, coronary heart disease, stroke, hypertension, some types of cancer, sleep apnea and other respiratory problems; and

(6) Obesity-related health conditions have serious economic costs and overweight and obesity may account for one hundred forty-seven billion dollars ($147,000,000,000) in annual health care costs nationally, or nine percent (9%) of all medical spending; and
(7) In the United States, roughly one-half (1/2) of these costs may be paid by Medicare and Medicaid, meaning taxpayers absorb the costs for health care associated with obesity treatment; and

(8) Medicare and Medicaid spending would be eight and one-half percent (8.5%) and eleven and eight-tenths percent (11.8%) lower, respectively, in the absence of obesity-related spending.

(9) There is sufficient scientific evidence that regular consumption of sugary drinks causes excess weight gain and these beverages are unique contributors to obesity and type 2 diabetes; and there is sufficient scientific evidence that reducing sugary drink consumption will have a significant impact on the prevalence of obesity and obesity-related diseases such as type 2 diabetes and other metabolic diseases; and

(10) Sugary drinks are the single largest source of added sugars in the American diet and an average twenty ounce (20 oz.) sugary drink, such as soda, contains fifteen (15) to eighteen (18) teaspoons of sugar and upwards of two hundred forty (240) calories; and

(11) The American Heart Association recommends limiting the amount of added sugars adults consume to no more than half of their daily discretionary calorie allowance and for most American women, that is no more than one hundred (100) calories per day, or about six (6) teaspoons of sugar, and for men, it is one hundred fifty (150) calories per day, or about nine (9) teaspoons; and

(12) The American Heart Association recommends that a person eating a two thousand (2,000) calorie diet consume no more than four hundred fifty (450) calories from sugary drinks per week and if adults are sedentary, their consumption should be lower; and

(13) Taxes and subsidies on food can influence consumption and it is recommended that taxes should be implemented as part of a comprehensive strategy to prevent obesity; and

(14) In the case of sugary drinks, research suggests that a 10 percent (10%) increase in their prices may lead to an eight to ten percent (8 – 10%) reduction in sugary drink purchases.

American Indian Tribal governments;

(2) Bottled sugary drinks, syrups, and powders sold by a distributor to another distributor

the provisions of this chapter, and the division of taxation shall exercise all the power and authority and perform all the duties with respect to taxpayers under this chapter as are provided in chapter 18 of title 44, except in the event of a conflict, and then the provisions of this chapter

The tax administrator is hereby empowered to make such rules and regulations, and provide such procedural measures, in cooperation with the state auditor, as may be reasonably necessary to accomplish the purposes of this chapter.

If any provision of this chapter, any rule or regulation made under this chapter, or the application of this chapter to any person or circumstance is held invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, the remainder of the chapter, rule, or regulation, and the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected. The invalidity of any section or sections or parts of any section of this chapter shall not affect the validity of the remainder of the chapter.
SECTION 3. This act shall take effect on January 1, 2020.
This act would create a tax on sugary drinks with the intent of discouraging excessive consumption of those beverages and would create a dedicated revenue source for programs designed to benefit public health in addition to the ultimate goal of reducing the health and economic costs of obesity in the state.
