An Act Relating to Criminal Offenses -- Trade in Animal Fur Act

Introduced By: Senator Stephen R. Archambault

Date Introduced: April 08, 2021

Referred To: Senate Judiciary

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 11 of the General Laws entitled "CRIMINAL OFFENSES" is hereby amended by adding thereto the following chapter:

CHAPTER 70

TRADE IN ANIMAL FUR PRODUCTS ACT

11-70-1. Findings.

The general assembly finds that animals that are slaughtered for their fur endure tremendous suffering. Animals on fur farms typically spend their entire lives in cramped and filthy cages. Fur farmers typically use the cheapest killing methods available, including suffocation, electrocution, gas and poison.

Fur farms are reservoirs and transmission vectors for dangerous zoonotic diseases, including SARS coronaviruses that threaten public health. Covid-19 infections have been confirmed at fur farms in Europe and North America, and scientific studies have linked mink, raccoon dogs and foxes, the animals most commonly farmed for their fur, to a variety of coronaviruses.

Considering the wide array of alternatives for fashion and apparel, the general assembly finds that the demand for fur products does not justify the unnecessary killing and cruel treatment of animals.

The general assembly believes that eliminating the sale of fur products in the state of Rhode Island will promote community awareness of animal welfare and, in turn, will foster a more humane environment in Rhode Island.
