AN ACT

RELATING TO CRIMINAL OFFENSES -- TRADE IN ANIMAL FUR PRODUCTS ACT

Introduced By: Representatives Kazarian, Serpa, Potter, and Kislak

Date Introduced: February 04, 2022

Referred To: House Judiciary

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 11 of the General Laws entitled "CRIMINAL OFFENSES" is hereby amended by adding thereto the following chapter:

CHAPTER 70

TRADE IN ANIMAL FUR PRODUCTS ACT

11-70-1. Purpose.

The general assembly finds and declares that:

(1) Animals that are slaughtered for their fur endure tremendous suffering. Animals raised on fur farms typically spend their entire lives in cramped and filthy cages. Fur farmers typically use the cheapest killing methods available, including suffocation, electrocution, gas and poison.

(2) Fur farms are reservoirs and transmission vectors for dangerous zoonotic diseases, including SARS coronaviruses that threaten public health. COVID-19 infections have been confirmed at fur farms in Europe and North America, and scientific studies have linked mink, raccoon dogs and foxes, the animals most commonly farmed for their fur, to a variety of corona viruses.

(3) The fur production process is energy intensive and has a significant environmental impact, including air and water pollution. Runoff from the fur production process contains high concentrations of phosphorous and nitrogen, which are the most common forms of water pollution in the United States, including in Rhode Island. In addition, the tanning and dying processes used in fur production use toxic chemicals and heavy metals like chromium and formaldehyde.
(4) Considering the wide array of alternatives for fashion and apparel, the general assembly finds that the demand for fur products does not justify the unnecessary killing and cruel treatment of animals, harm to the environment, and the public health risks to the people of Rhode Island caused by these practices.

(5) The general assembly believes that eliminating the sale of fur products in the State of Rhode Island will decrease the demand for these cruel and environmentally harmful products and will promote community awareness of animal welfare and, in turn, will foster a more humane environment in Rhode Island and enhance the reputation of the state.
