1           WHEREAS, Throughout the history of this great state and our nation, women have 2 pursued just and noble goals, significantly contributing to the very bedrock of our history.
3 Women faced a unique set of obstacles in having their views recognized and in managing work 4 and family, but possessed the strength and initiative to imagine the future's possibilities while still 5 handling the enormity of their day-to-day responsibilities. They challenged gender barriers, 6 fought inequality, won the right to vote, overcame job discrimination, and gave birth to a more 7 enlightened world; and

8           WHEREAS, Women such as Rhode Island's founding mother, Anne Hutchinson, who, 9 after being banished from Massachusetts Bay Colony for her views on religious freedom and 10 gender equality, helped to settle Aquidneck Island in 1637. This great woman was considered a 11 rebel for voicing an alternate view of religion and promoting equality against a male-dominated 12 society, whose law was based on church doctrine. She did this over a century before our 13 "founding fathers" and at a time when women were chattel and questioning the church was 14 unlawful. Her efforts helped to form the cornerstone of Rhode Island and America's historic 15 acceptance of equality for the numerous religious beliefs and various cultures that make this 16 country great; and

17           WHEREAS, Elizabeth Buffum Chace (1806-1899) was often referred to as "the 18 conscience of Rhode Island." She battled slavery, fought for women's suffrage, and defended mill 19 workers' rights. Abolitionist Christiana Carteaux Bannister (1820-1902) spent her life battling

1 social inequities and prejudice, and rose to become a successful entrepreneur and philanthropist; 2 and

3 WHEREAS, More recently, some of the great women shaping our state and broadening
4 the horizon for all women include the late retired Supreme Court Justice Florence Murray, a 5 former legislator who became Rhode Island's first female Chief Judge of the Superior Court in 6 1978, and the first woman to become a member of the Rhode Island Supreme Court in November
7 1999. Senator Lila M. Sapinsley was the first female Minority Leader in Rhode Island. Known 8 as a true "Grande Dame" of Rhode Island Democratic politics, the late Honorable Eleanor F.
9 Slater was a former Rhode Island State Representative and State Senator who significantly 10 contributed to Rhode Island's elderly and fair housing laws. Most recently, the Honorable Senator 11 M. Teresa Paiva Weed became and currently serves as the first woman President of the Rhode 12 Island Senate; and

13 WHEREAS, Our foremothers have often been unsung heroines who sacrificed and 14 endured immense hardships in order to build a robust and equitable nation, and their efforts have 15 paved the way for all women, in every walk of life, to succeed and be recognized; and

16 WHEREAS, Women have demonstrated accomplishments in sports, industry, and the 17 arts, including Mary Katherine Goddard and her widowed mother, who became publishers of the 18 Providence Gazette newspaper, making them the first women publishers in America; Mary Kies, 19 the first woman to receive a patent; Elizabeth Blackwell, the first woman to receive a medical 20 degree in the United States; Rebecca Lee Crumpler, the first black woman to receive an M.D.
21 degree; Arabella Mansfield, the first woman granted admission to practice law, making her the 22 first woman lawyer; Edith Wharton, the first woman to win a Pulitzer Prize for fiction; Gertrude 23 Ederle, the first woman to swim across the English Channel; Amelia Earhart, the first woman to 24 fly solo across the Atlantic; Muriel "Mickey" Siebert, the first woman to own a seat on the New 25 York Stock Exchange; Pearl S. Buck, the first woman to receive the Nobel Prize in literature; 26 Rosa Parks, whose brave refusal to yield her seat on a bus ignited the civil rights movement; and 27 Diane Crump, the first female jockey to ride in the Kentucky Derby, have helped to strengthen 28 and enrich this nation; and

29 WHEREAS, Great women in government such as Victoria Claflin Woodhull, who was 30 the first woman presidential candidate in the United States; Susanna Medora Salter, the first 31 woman elected mayor of an American town; Jeannette Rankin, the first woman to be elected to 32 the U.S. House of Representatives; and Sandra Day O'Connor, the first woman Justice of the 33 Supreme Court, have all helped to mold and shape our democracy; and

34 WHEREAS, Let us also never forget all the brave Rhode Island women and women

1 across America who have served and are serving in the United States military, facing grave 2 dangers, and whose actions are courageous and noble beyond words; and

3 WHEREAS, Women have thoroughly encompassed every undertaking, advancement, 4 and triumph, historically and currently attained in this country, and the magnificent women from 5 Rhode Island's past played a major role in sculpting Rhode Island's history. They are all truly 6 deserving of our recognition and praise; now, therefore be it
