STATE OF RHODE ISLAND

IN GENERAL ASSEMBLY

JANUARY SESSION, A.D. 2016

H O U S E R E S O L U T I O N

PROCLAIMING APRIL 12, 2016, AS "EQUAL PAY DAY" IN THE STATE OF RHODE ISLAND

Introduced By: Representatives Hearn, Messier, Costa, Williams, and Marcello

Date Introduced: April 12, 2016

Referred To: House read and passed

1           WHEREAS, The Equal Pay Act was signed 53 years ago however, the wage gap between 2 working women and working men has narrowed by less than half a cent per year; and

3           WHEREAS, According to the United States Department of Labor and the US Census
4 Bureau, among full-time workers, women still earn less than men, earning 78.6 percent of what 5 men earn. Additionally, a wage gap persists between the genders when further analyzing by 6 educational attainment, age groups, race and ethnicity; and

7           WHEREAS, Economist Evelyn Murphy, president of The Wage Project, estimates that 8 during the average 47 years of full-time work the wage gap amounts to a loss in wages for a 9 woman of:

- 10           •         $700,000 for a high school graduate;
- 11           •         $1.2 million for a college graduate; and
- 12           •         $2 million for a professional school graduate; and

13           WHEREAS, In 2013, women were more likely to live in poverty (14.5 percent of women 14 compared to 11 percent of men). Women therefore have higher rates of economic insecurity than 15 do men and are thus more likely to rely on public benefits like Medicaid, the Supplemental 16 Nutrition Assistance Program (formerly known as Food Stamps) and housing assistance; and

17           WHEREAS, The wage disparity over a woman's working lifetime has a tremendous 18 impact on Social Security benefits and pensions, and in 2010, women 50 and older received only 19 56 cents for every dollar received by men in income from pensions and annuities; and

1           WHEREAS, The three time, and current, World Cup champion and four time Olympic 2 gold medalist United States Women's Soccer Team brought in twenty million dollars more in 3 revenue in 2015 for the United States Soccer Federation than did the men's soccer team, yet the 4 members of the multiple world champion women's team are paid approximately four times less 5 than the men's soccer team members; and

6           WHEREAS, The economic impact of this persistent pay inequality is far-reaching: if 7 women in the United States received equal pay with comparable men, poverty for working 8 women would be reduced by half and the U.S. economy would add $482 billion (equivalent to 9 2.8 percent of 2014 gross domestic product) to its economy; and

10          WHEREAS, Closing the gender wage gap would not only increase women's earnings, it 11 would grow each state's economy. Equal pay would provide a significant boost to the economy; 12 and

13          WHEREAS, With equal pay, a working woman in Rhode Island would see an average of 14 $6,066 increase or a 14 percent increase in pay which is 2.9 percent of the state's gross domestic 15 product (GDP); and

16          WHEREAS, In 2015, The Institute for Women's Policy Research estimated that women 17 will not receive equal pay until 2059; and

18          WHEREAS, The Rhode Island Commission on Women is dedicated to leading reforms 19 involving equal pay for the women and girls of Rhode Island, and to recognizing the full value of 20 women's skills and significant contributions to the labor force; and

21          WHEREAS, The Rhode Island Commission on Women encourages businesses to 22 conduct an internal pay evaluation to ensure that women are being paid fairly; and

23          WHEREAS, Fair pay equity policies can be implemented simply and without undue costs 24 or hardship in both the public and private sectors; and

25          WHEREAS, Fair pay strengthens the security of families today and eases future 26 retirement costs, while enhancing the American economy; and

27          WHEREAS, Tuesday, April 12th symbolizes the date on which the wages paid to 28 American women catch up to the wages paid to American men during the previous year; now, 29 therefore be it

30          RESOLVED, That this House of Representatives of the State of Rhode Island and 31 Providence Plantations hereby proclaims Tuesday, April 12, 2016, as "Equal Pay Day" in the 32 state; and be it further

- 1 RESOLVED, That the Secretary of State be and hereby is authorized and directed to
- 2 transmit a duly certified copy of this resolution to the Women's Fund of Rhode Island.
